5.3 Use of Cards

5.3.1. As a rule, the Customer expresses his/her consent to authorize Card Payment Transactions through Strict Customer Authentication, under the conditions and with the application of the exceptions provided for by the Romanian legislation and European regulations.

5.3.2 Payment transactions ordered by means of the Card shall be deemed authorized by the Card User if he/she has given his/her consent by using the security features, as follows:

a) for ATM/MFM transactions: using the Card and PIN. In case of using an eWallet, the transaction is carried out by approaching the mobile device with payment function to the contactless terminal (ATM/MFM), unlocking, if necessary, the mobile device and then continuing the transaction on the Payment Terminal screen, including entering the PIN of the eWallet.

b) for point of sale transactions ("EPOS"): usually by inserting or bringing the Card close to the EPOS, entering the PIN code and/or signing the receipt generated by the EPOS; In the case of Small Value Card Payments, the payment authorization is performed as described in 5.3.4 below without the need to sign the receipt issued by the EPOS and/or enter the PIN code.

c) for transactions at Imprinter: by using the Card and the signature on the receipt generated by the payment terminal.

d) for e-commerce transactions:

(i) in the case of sites not enrolled in the 3-D SECURE Service: payment authorization is made by providing the data entered on the Card, under the terms and conditions agreed by the Card User with the merchant;

5.3.3 Certain types of Card Transactions in e-commerce, by exception to the provisions of 5.3.2 (d) (ii), may be authorised by the Card User as follows:

(i) Recurring Transactions (a series of payments of the same amount made to the same payee at certain intervals of time e.g. monthly, weekly etc.) - the Card User authorises the first payment transaction through Strict Customer Authorisation and subsequent payments in the series are deemed to be authorised by the Card User, without providing the security features associated with Strict Customer Authentication;

(ii) Transactions for which the Card User has given the payee/merchant a mandate on the Card User's website to initiate payments on his/her behalf - the Card User provides the security elements of the Strict Customer Authentication at the time of giving the mandate to the payee/merchant and the payments are initiated by the payee/merchant without the Card User applying the Strict Customer Authorisation;

(iii) Electronic transactions identified as low risk - authorization of these transactions is done by providing the data entered on the Card, without the introduction of security elements related to Strict Customer Authentication. The low level of risk is determined, according to legal provisions, from the analysis of the Card User's transaction profile, taking into account several parameters such as, but not limited to, the amount and currency of transactions, the merchant's country, repeated transactions to an agreed beneficiary, performing transactions from the same device.

5.3.4 For Small Value Card Payments authorised using contactless technology and/or over the internet (e-commerce) the Card User is deemed to have given his/her consent to the payment transaction by simply bringing the Card/mobile device with payment function close to an EPOS/ATM/MFM Terminal or by providing card data for internet transactions (e-commerce), without the need for Strict Customer Authentication, if the cumulative amount or the cumulative number of Small Value Payments made since the last application of Strict Customer Authentication, as determined by the Bank/International Card Organizations and published on the Raiffeisen Bank website, is met.ro. The value of these limits may be modified by regulatory acts and/or by the international card organisations, and the Client will be informed accordingly on the Bank's website/agencies of the new limits. The limit may not be higher than the limit established by law.

5.3.5 (1) The Bank has the right to set certain transaction limits (such as but not limited to: maximum daily number of transactions, daily cash withdrawal/transaction limit) through the Card (both for the Primary Card and the Supplementary Card), which limits are indicated in the Specific Agreement and/or in the Specific Lists and/or on the Bank's website.

5.3.7 As a rule, Transactions are made within the limits of the available funds in the Cardholder's current/credit card account. Exceptionally, the Bank may execute the Payment Transaction in the situations described in 5.3.8 below;

5.3.8 Accidental overdraft of the available funds in the Current Account with the Card attached may occur due to the debiting of the Current Account with the interest due to the Bank by the Account Holder, with the counter value of the Payment Transactions ordered on the Current Account, with fees and/or commissions related to the Current Account and/or to the use of the Card, or due to malfunctions of the communication systems owned or managed by third parties (banks, merchants, card acceptors, telephone service providers, etc.), in the case of offline payments or small value Card payments, using contactless technology, for which no availability check was requested at the time of transaction authorisation, and the transaction authorisation was not carried out with PIN request and/or receipt signature.

5.9.1.3 The User has the possibility to add the same Card in several eWallets and on several devices with payment function at the same time. The mobile device provider may impose limitations or restrictions on the use of the eWallet and/or may have minimum software and hardware requirements for the compatible mobile device used. The User is obliged to use the Card only on a mobile device compatible with the eWallet functionality and to comply with all terms and conditions applicable to that eWallet.

5.9.1.4 The provider of the eWallet and/or mobile payment devices with which payments can be made via the eWallet and third parties with whom they collaborate may have their own terms and conditions and privacy policies. The User is subject to the respective terms and conditions or privacy policies when using the eWallet/mobile device with payment function. The Bank assumes no responsibility for the way in which they use the information that the User makes available to them, nor for the User's personal data that they process in the context of the services they offer or when visiting their websites. If, after the verification, the Payer's Institution finds that it does not comply with the minimum conditions of validity (it does not have all the mandatory fields completed, the payer's IBAN account is not correct, inconsistency between the data entered on the mandate and those in the bank's records, declared previously paid, the signature specimen does not correspond), it will reject the mandate. If the mandate is rejected, the Payer's Institution will inform the Beneficiary about the non-activation of the mandate. A Mandate is considered active and produces effects from the moment it is confirmed by the Payer's Institution. The payer's institution commits to validate the mandate concluded by the Payer at the Beneficiary's headquarters or to refuse the activation within a maximum of 5 working days from the date of its receipt from the Beneficiary/Beneficiary's Institution.

The payer assumes responsibility for the correctness of the information provided during the telephone conversation with the Bank employee. Expressly and in all cases, the Payer accepts that for the security of the information communicated the Bank has the right to record all telephone calls between the Payer and the Bank and acknowledges the probative force of recording the calls requested by the Bank and communicates the information regarding the Mandate; it also accepts that the steps mentioned in this article, in order to activate the Mandate, represent an option of the Bank, not an obligation of the Bank.

7.3.3 In order to execute the mandate, the Payer undertakes to provide in the Account, on the Payment Date, the amount necessary to make the payment and to cover the commission arising from the provision of this service.

7.3.4 Also, the payment will be made only when the Payer's Account is not blocked as a result of an unavailability measure taken by the Bank or disposed of by an organ having such competences/attribution. No partial payments will be carried out.

7.3.5 If, on the Payment Date, the payment in the Payer's Account does not fully cover the amount of the invoices, including the commissions related to the service provision, the Bank reserves the right not to make the payment. In case of rejection of the modification form, the Paying Institution will inform the Beneficiary about this.
